

Joe Blauert, General Manager, ProcessPro

Joe has over 30 years of experience in the software industry. As General Manager of ProcessPro, his primary focus is to ensure the company's continued growth and evolution to meet the ever increasing demand for its products and services in addition to the vital needs of its clients. Joe has robust and in-depth knowledge of the ProcessPro business as he manages sales, business and product development, and operations. He's a strong leader with an open door policy and brings cohesive leadership across the entire organization.

Previously, Joe held senior executive roles in sales, operations, and finance with HighJump Software, ADP, and Honeywell. He has a proven record of outstanding performance including being a significant contributor in building a business from $10 million to $90 million through organic sales growth, acquisitions, and international expansion. Joe's leadership success has been driven by his ability to balance often opposing factors, such as strategic vision with day-to-day execution, and new customer acquisition with financial discipline.
